

Site Web Search powered by YAHOO! SEARCH

El Paso Times Inside El Paso Southwest Parent

Jobs | Cars | Classifieds | Real Estate | Apartments | Shopping

News New & Updated Military Communities Business Opinion Sports Entertainment Living Obituaries Español Customer Service

★ ENTERTAINMENT

Review:

Suite proves to be perfect for violinist, symphony

By Jason Sifford / Special to the Times
Article Launched: 10/20/2007 12:00:00 AM MDT

John Corigliano's score for the Francois Girard film "The Red Violin" serves two purposes.

It provides an atmospheric backdrop for an instrument's journey through 300 years of musical and social history, and it acts as a second speaking voice for the characters in the film, telling the stories of the violinists' relationships with the instrument and its creator.

Perhaps no violinist is better equipped to understand this aspect of Corigliano's score than Lara St. John.

With the violin as her voice, she commands our attention, and the music we hear is the music she would have us hear. Moments of 17th-century reflection are found alongside striking bursts of 20th-century modernism, and both come to our ears convincingly interpreted.

The El Paso Symphony Orchestra met those interpretive demands brilliantly, providing a cohesive and stylistic accompaniment to the suite.

The orchestra's playing proved the perfect match for the soloist's musical gifts, particularly in the beautiful duets from the first-stand cellos and violins.

St. John's virtuosity became clearly apparent in the next work on the program, her own arrangement of Franz Liszt's "Totentanz," originally for piano and orchestra.

Here, Liszt's material perfectly fit the violinist's Hungarian sensibilities, and the orchestration captured all the fire and bombast of the original. Conductor Sarah Ioannides should be credited for her intelligent accompaniment.

Too often, conductors sacrifice tone for balance,

a mistake that did not plague this performance, and the overall effect quickly brought the audience to its feet.

Descriptions of the first Sibelius symphony tend to rely on geography, social commentary and the composer's autobiography to make their point.

In concert, however, it is always the audience's feelings that must be recognized. Maestra Ioannides understands this, and the orchestra responds.

Rather than a portrayal of the crystalline expanse of the Finnish landscape, we hear instead the color and majesty of our own mountains.

The string playing was warm and sultry, and the wind playing had a rhapsodic flexibility that, while straying at times from the precision we typically associate with Sibelius, captured a refreshing festivity and heroism.

Advertisement

Throughout the performance, the orchestra displayed a rare and natural sense of flexibility, and the conductor's pacing was flawless. The result was a truly moving experience for the audience.

Jason Sifford is a local pianist, composer and educator. He may be reached at jpiano@gmail.com.

Make plans

- What: El Paso Symphony Orchestra with special guest violinist Lara St. John.
- When: 7:30 p.m. today.
- Where: Plaza Theatre.
- How much: $10-$35
- Information: 532-3776.

More headlines

- 'Bee' star a role model for teens
- 'Star Trek' film gets new Kirk, McCoy
- Actress finds her dark side in 'Haunting'
- Clever pop-up books sure to surprise children
- Seattle band uses acoustic-layered sound hauntingly
- Reba rocks Las Cruces
- Suite proves to be perfect for violinist, symphony
- Hot ticket: Johnny Winter
- Comedy corner: Tom Clark
- Don't miss it: High Rolls Apple Festival

Top Jobs

- Healthcare Border Home Care
- Healthcare Pharmacy Manager
- Healthcare FORT BAYARD MEDIC
- Sales/Retail RENTAL & SALES C
- Accounting CPA firm is lookin

ALL LISTINGS

CLICK TO VIEW careerbuilder TV

SELECT A CATEGORY:

View All

- Dillard's
Job Fair
- GC Services
Inbound Customer Service Reps.
- Taylor Precision Products
Customer Service Supervisor
- Empire Today LLC.
Customer Care

POWERED BY DMC

Print Email Return to Top

Sports Mania

- Bobcats' Morrison likely done for season
- Griese, Muhammad lift Bears over Eagles
- Blocked FG rallies Cowboys past Vikings
- Hendrick teammates dominate again

Lifestyle

- How to discipline a stranger's kid
- Grandma's treasures spill over with stories
- Clever pop-up books sure to surprise children
- Casasola Photo of the Week

Now Playing at Hitachi True Stories Watch mini-movies about advanced Hitachi technology. www.hitachi.us	Self Publish and Sell Your Book Make your book available to Amazon customers on-demand with www.BookSurge.com	tv You'll love IMVU - 3D Avatar chat. Meet New People. www.IMVU.com
---	---	---

Ads by Yahoo!

Copyright © 2007 by the El Paso Times and MediaNews Group and/or wire services and suppliers. None of the content on this site may be republished or reused in any way without the written permission of the copyright holder.

News Partners: Alamogordo Daily News · Carlsbad Current-Argus · The Deming Headlight · Farmington Daily Times · Las Cruces Sun-News · Ruidoso News · Silver City Sun-News

El Paso Times Site Map

Privacy Policy | MNG Corporate Site Map | Copyright